

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Mrs. Celinda Perceval of St. Johnsbury celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary Friday.

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born Memorial day to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoyt of St. Johnsbury.

Wesley Talbot caught a trout at the village covered bridge in East Hardwick a few days ago that weighed two pounds three ounces, measuring 18 inches in length and four inches through.

Edward K. Boak, principal of the high school at Easthampton, Mass., for 11 years, has accepted an appointment as principal of the high school at Winoski.

Cleon Day of East Hardwick captured a snapping turtle a few weeks ago which weighed 28 pounds. It was bought by Phillips, the taxidermist, of Groton, and at last reports was still alive.

While chasing a cow on the school grounds in Norwich a few days ago Lawrence Hutchinson was kicked and his jaw broken. His front teeth were tipped inward so that a trip to the dentist was necessary.

Walter C. Smith, secretary and assistant treasurer of the Vermont Farm Machine company at Bellows Falls, and connected with the company for 30 years, has resigned, the resignation taking effect June 1. J. A. Pearson, assistant general manager, has been made assistant treasurer and Herman J. Searles, with the company for 18 years, is secretary. Mr. Smith will take a long vacation before considering another position.

One of the few bells in use today in the country made by the firm of Revere & Sons, bell founders, hangs in the tower of Immanuel church in Bellows Falls, having been presented to the parish just 100 years ago. The senior partner of the Revere firm was the Paul Revere immortalized by Longfellow. For many years the bell in the Bellows Falls church was rung at noon and at 9 p. m., in addition to calling to church service, sounding fire alarms and tolling out the age of any deceased person in the parish.

During the night of June 6 burglars removed a screen from a window in the house of Lucile Metevier in Winoski and upon investigation the next morning the occupants found they had been robbed of about $300. At the house with Mrs. Metevier were her two brothers, recently back from France, and they first knew of the burglary's visit when they were unable to find their trousers in the morning. These were found later in the yard with the money gone from the pockets. In the yard also was found a $10 bill dropped by the robbers and some change. Mrs. Metevier lost about $60 in money and a Canadian government check. The Winoski police have a few clues.

Nothing has yet been found to indicate the fate of Robert T. Lapp, traveling salesman for Ingersoll Bros. of New York City, makers of the watches of that name, who disappeared in Bellows Falls May 30. When Lapp left the hotel in Bellows Falls he told the proprietor he would be back that night to occupy the room, but when two days had elapsed and he had not returned and his automobile had been found beside the road near North Walpole, N. H., with other blanks, correspondence and other matter scattered about the ground and his simple case of watches missing, the authorities took the affair up. The auto, a Ford runabout, had run into a fence post and it is surmised that the impact threw Lapp into the Connecticut river, not more than 50 feet distant. The river has been dragged with grappling hooks and the man's wife has been found in Bellows Falls, but nothing has been found to give the faintest clue as to Lapp's whereabouts, except the theory that he might have been thrown into the river.
